

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TrainingMade Offers a Full Suite of Services for their Ready-Made Training Content

Implementation of services ahead of schedule in response to customer demand

Boston, MA (PRWEB) April 13, 2009 -- TrainingMade, the leading provider of ready-made restriction free business training content, today announced their full suite of services including course customization, telephone support services, delivery and executive coaching services.

Working with expert trainers in a variety of industries, TrainingMade provides buyers with the option of customizing and delivering the training content for its customers.

"We now have the capability to customize all training content to match a customer's strategies, competency requirements, and company culture. In addition we are offering a unique service of just-in-time telephone support to help customers prepare for delivery; discuss facilitation techniques; or to offer any assistance with any TrainingMade training content." said Michelle Del Rosario, President and Co-founder of TrainingMade.

TrainingMade Products can be instantly downloaded with everything needed to deliver high quality training. Customers have the option of implementing the products as is; adding customization themselves; or utilizing TrainingMade Services to do the work for them.

The direct link to the full suite of services is: TrainingMade.com/services

About TrainingMade

TrainingMade delivers business value to its customers by providing affordable, contemporary business training content for classroom and virtual delivery. TrainingMade products, which contain everything you need to deliver instructor led training, are designed and developed by business leaders and training experts and tested in the classroom. The TrainingMade solution of offering ready-made, restriction free training content for instant download is a cost effective alternative to traditional training design and development. TrainingMade content areas include Sales and Sales Management, Administrative Support, Human Resources, Business Strategy, Management and Leadership.

“ We now have the capability to customize all training content to match a customer's strategies, competency requirements, and company culture. In addition we are offering a unique service of just-in-time telephone support to help customers prepare for delivery; discuss facilitation techniques; or to offer any assistance with any TrainingMade training content. ”